

BASH MANUAL:

Command	Description
cat	cat file.txt Reads the content of a file and prints it at the terminal. cat file1.txt file2.txt > file3.txt You can use it to concatenate files.
cp	cp file1 path/file2 Copy files.
echo	echo "Text" Prints into the terminal.
grep	grep "regular expression" file.txt It takes a regular expression and prints which text lines contains it.
head	head file.txt It shows the first lines of a file.
mkdir	mkdir folder Creates a folder.
more	more file1.txt Shows the content of a file while going through it.
mv	mv file new_destination Moving a file to a new destination.
ls	ls List the files that are present in a folder.
pwd	pwd It shows the current path.
rmdir	rmdir folder Removes a folder.
sort	sort file.txt Sorts the lines of a folder.
uniq	uniq archivo.txt Shows the unique lines of a file.
wc	wc -l archivo.txt Counts the number of lines.